Reception Given For New Students By Y. M. and Y. W.

Activities of Week Are Climaxed
by Annual Affair Held
Friday, Sept. 21

The initial formal gathering of the college students and faculty, sponsored by the Christian Associations of the college, took place Friday evening, September 21, at Wood-Mar Hall.

New students were received and welcomed by officials of the school: President Pennington, Mrs. Pennington, president of the College Auxiliary; Elizabeth Aebischer, president of the Y. W. C. A.; Eugene Coffin, president of the Y. M. C. A., and Elwood Egelston, student-body president.

Various introductions being made and new friendships formed, halves of famous quotations from literature were distributed to students and faculty members, and from there on a diligent search was instigated to find the corresponding halves of quotations.

After light refreshments the following program was given in the chapel. Miss Helen Lou Povenmire acted in the capacity of mistress of ceremonies:

Two pianos—Romance—Prof. Hull and Constance Lewis.

Speech of Welcome from Y. W. C. A.—Elizabeth Aebischer, president.

Vocal trio—"Love Came Calling, Bluebird of My Heart"—Rachel Pemberton, Jean Gardner, Esther Miller.

PRESIDENT PENNINGTON ADDRESSES STUDENTS AT FIRST CHAPEL PROGRAM

After a short program at which Prof. Hull and his six year old son played a piano duet, Hungarian Dance No. 5 by Brahms, and Rimsky Korsakov's song, "The Rose and the Nightingale," sung by Prof. Hull, President Pennington spoke on the Factors of Personality, as his first speech given in chapel on the opening day of classes.

He said, "Any number we can name may be resolved into factors, and so it is that every human being can be resolved into factors.

"The first factor is that of heredity. Every man is born into the world with certain definite potentialities; however, with each potentiality, there are limits to those characteristics as are governed by heredity.

"The second factor is that of environment. There are things in every man's environment which go a long way toward what he is going to be.

"Another factor, and perhaps the most important, is that of the Grace of God. God pours into the human heart something that the heart isn't itself responsible for, such as, strength, goodness, and Grace.

"The fourth factor which is almost equally as important as that of the third, is Individual Will; that is, personal determination, decisions and voli-

ENROLLMENT AT PACIFIC IS LARGEST IN HISTORY; HELP GIVEN BY F. E. R. A.

The enrollment of Pacific College reached the highest mark in the history of the school Friday, Sept. 28, with a total of 116 students registered for the fall term of 1934.

The increase in registration is in part due to the extensive efforts the faculty have made to find opportunities for students to work for at least a part of their tuition in addition to the funds made available by the FERA. The number of students now going to school under this plan is 12% of the number of men and women who were in school last October. Each of these students is allowed $15 minimum to $20 maximum a month, which must in turn be worked out every month.

These students are greatly improving the college buildings as well as the campus and plans are under way for leveling the athletic field; cleaning the canyon by burning brush and removing dead trees; painting the gym inside and out, and trimming the campus shrubbery and trees. The girls are being given work in the dormitory and typing and library work in the administration building.

HAL CHAPMAN, EXPERIENCED COACH AND PLAYER, ASSUMES RESPONSIBILITY AT PACIFIC

To fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Prof. Gulley as acting athletic coach, Mr. Hal Chapman has been appointed by the Pacific College board. In carrying out his duties as the athletic coach he will, however, be under Prof. Gulley, who will still retain the position of Director of Athletics.

Mr. Chapman comes to Pacific after having had eight years of actual participation in the major sports, which include four years of high school athletics, one year of football at both Oregon State College and Pacific University, and two years at Monmouth.

While attending Oregon Normal at Monmouth he coached the Independence Junior High school team and under his leadership the teams won the county championships for both football and bas-

CLASS OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN; FROSH ELECT HOSKINS HEAD

As a result of class elections held during the first week of the fall term, Lewis Hoskins of Newberg was elected president of the Freshman class, and Mary Colver, Ruthanna McCracken and Charles Hendrickson, presidents of the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes, respectively.

Although the freshman elections were not completed, the other classes announce the following officers:

Sophomore—Vice president, John Diamond; secretary, Mary Brooks; treasurer, Harold Roberts; social committee chairman, Jean Gardner.

Junior—Vice president, Marjorie Seely; secretary, Pearl Kivett; treasurer, Ray Hansberry.

Senior—Vice president, Helen Wehrley; secretary and treasurer, Elizabeth Aebischer.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS FILL POSITIONS VACATED BY LEWIS AND SCHERER

This year two changes have taken place in the faculty of Pacific College.

To fill the vacancy left by Prof. Scherer, Glenn J. Woodward has been elected Professor of Chemistry. Mr. Woodward graduated from Whitman College in 1930, magna cum laude, with a Phi Beta Kappa key. He is affiliated with Sigma—fraternity. Following his graduation with his B. S. in chemistry, he completed two years of graduate work in the University of Oregon with master's degree in Chemistry. The last two years he has spent as graduate assistant and instructor in the Chemistry department at Oregon State College, where he has done most of the requisite work for his Ph. D.

Miss Emma Kendall is taking the place of Prof. Lewis as head of the English department. She received her A. B. degree from Earlham and her M. A. from the University of Chicago. During the summer of 1930, Miss Kendall traveled in Europe. For the past sixteen years she has acted as head of the English department at Friends University, Wichita, Kansas.

APPEAL FOR SUPPORT OF ARMAMENT INVESTIGATION MADE BY J. J. HANDSAKER

J. J. Handsaker, who is head of the Northwest division of the National Council for Prevention of War, spoke to the student body on Monday, Sept. 24, on the subject of Peace. Mr. Handsaker has spoken to many student bodies of Pacific in former years, and is always welcomed as a very interesting and instructive speaker.

Mr. Handsaker opened his speech with a quotation from Major General John F. O'Ryan, who said, after returning from a very active part in the World War, "The American people can end war in our time, if they will get on the job and wage peace as war has been waged. I think that I would be a traitor to my country if I did not do all in my power to end war." Mr. Handsaker brought out the fact that if people in general carried out that attitude, as illustrated by the quotation, it would not be such a hard task to educate the world for peace.

NEW COACH HONORED BY LETTERMEN AT CHOWDER

Coach Hal Chapman was the guest of honor at the chowder supper held by the Gold "P" Club at the home of Don Larimer Wednesday evening. About twenty hungry lettermen gathered at the festive board to enjoy the supreme cooking and concoction by ex-president Larimer.

Ronald Sherk, president, called the meeting to order, extending his welcome and support to Coach Chapman. Chapman expressed his appreciation for the fine spirit of cooperation shown by all. He also forecasted a highly successful year in athletics. Dr. Homer Hester and Captain Coffin also gave short talks. The meeting closed with the college song.

Hoover Returns to Boyhood School For Short Visit

Ex-President Honored at Informal Reception Held at Pennington Home

The nation's only living ex-president, Herbert Hoover, made a quiet visit to his boyhood home town, Newberg, Tuesday. A very informal reception, in honor of Mr. Hoover, was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Levi T. Pennington. The invited guests were old residents of the town and former classmates of Mr. Hoover.

Quiet excitement prevailed when the distinguished visitor was seen in the corridor, viewing the plaque erected as a tribute to him.

Mr. Hoover was enrolled in the first class at the former Pacific Academy, in 1885. In 1889 he moved to Salem. Though not a graduate from Pacific college, Mr. Hoover maintained a friendly relationship to the institution.

Mr. Hoover stated that this was his second visit to Newberg and recalled that the building now known as Hoover Hall was the academy building when he was in school. The ex-president likewise expressed his interest in his old schoolmates.

When asked by President Pennington if he would say a few words to the college student body, Mr. Hoover expressed his regret, saying that he must adhere to his rule of not speaking, because of the fact that any remarks he may make are so frequently misquoted.

PROF. EMMETT GULLEY NOM- INATED FOR CONGRESSMAN ON INDEPENDENT TICKET

Professor Emmett W. Gulley of the class of 1917 and for the last six years professor of Spanish and Social Sciences and director of physical education for Pacific, has been nominated on an independent ticket as a dry candidate for Congress for the First congressional district.

He has taken for his slogan, "Human Values First," and has adopted the following platform:

1. Development and complete control by the government of all remaining publicly owned natural resources, including hydro-electric power, for the benefit of all of the people, and government ownership of all public utilities.
2. Government control of our currency and credit system.
3. Raising the bulk of taxes from incomes, inheritances, gifts and other able-to-pay sources.
4. A fair return and economic protection for agriculture.
5. Maintenance of a constructive and comprehensive educational system, stressing evil effects of alcoholic liquors, looking toward eradication of the liquor traffic. Uniform federal laws governing marriage and divorce. Strict federal control of the sources of output of the motion picture industry.
6. Enactment by next Congress of a

LET'S GO, PACIFIC!

The achievement of the largest enrollment in the history of Pacific college is not one for which the present student body can be given entire credit. It is due rather to many people who have cooperated together that it might be made possible.

To the present student body it is rather a challenge to greater achievements. It is a challenge for accomplishments, both group and individual, that will fulfill the expectation of those who have placed confidence in us. It is a call for greater loyalty, greater cooperation and greater determination that we may break the records of previous years.

Pacific is off to a grand start. We are the largest student body in history. It is a challenge. Let's go, Pacific!

Y. M. C. A. HEARS AIMS OF COMMITTEES AT FIRST MEET

The first meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, held Wednesday, Sept. 19, was opened by the president, Eugene Coffin, with a short devotional period.

The meeting was given over to the explanation of the purposes of the Y. M. C. A. as carried out by the committees Angus Hendrickson, chairman of the membership committee, Allen Hadley, treasurer, and Earnest Pearson, chairman of the deputation committee, presenting the aims of their respective committees. Of special interest to the group was the announcement by Harvey Campbell, chairman of the religious meetings committee, that Milo Ross of the Christian Endeavor Union of Oregon Yearly Meeting has been secured to head some of the discussions.

The meeting was closed with a song by Eugene Coffin, accompanied by Lewis Hoskins.

tions. A man can exercise his own will in determining the way he should go, yet no one as yet has measured up 100% to his potentialities.

"A person must realize his limitations and direct himself in making something of his heredity.

"In selecting an environment, the individual will has a large part to play. There is a potential environment in this school, so one may pick out the group of individuals which may do him a great deal of good, or may do exactly the contrary. Environment may be changed for better or for worse.

"One does not have to change God to receive blessings and strength—it is a matter of individual decision as to whether he will place himself in a position to receive those things from God."

HOWARD RICHARDS DESCRIBES SUMMER'S WORK IN FRIENDS' SERVICE CAMP IN THE EAST

"We spent ten happy weeks of fun and very hard work this summer in Pennsylvania, while attending the American Friends Service Camp situated in the West Moreland Homestead project in Mount Pleasant Township," stated Howard Richards, senior here, when asked about his trip with Carl Sandoz, June, '34, to this camp in the bituminous coal regions of Pennsylvania. "We left here just before graduation and spent the time in camp from June 25 to Sept. 1. We were the first campers to arrive and it was our duty to get the camp in readiness for the others," he added.

When asked just what this camp was all about, Mr. Richards looked as if he thought his interviewers were asking him to do something as hard as telling all the workings of the NRA. However, he endeavored to point out the highlights of this project.

"There were 40 campers and 12 women working on the Homestead project this summer. These people are working there under Friends Service Committee for the purpose of, as one eastern paper stated it, 'contributing their efforts in a place where they can assist in the rehabilitation of some people caught in a disaster not of their own making, and where at the same time they can learn something of the factors which have contributed to the breakdown of the soft coal industry and something of its effect on the lives of miners and their families'.

The men slept in an airy old barn after it had been soundly renovated and will later become a cooperative workshop and social center. The women had their quarters in a tenant house on the farm, where usually after dinner every evening discussion groups and very beneficial conferences were held on the lawn. We had hours for recreation and fun as well as work," he continued.

"There are 1100 acres in this project. 500 of this are to be a cooperative dairy and a cooperative farm. The homestead lots are two acres each, and a house of four, five or six rooms will be built on each lot. This will make 250 on the project. Each tenant will have his own two acres to do with as he pleases, and then he must also help work on the cooperative farm and dairy. The idea is to help the coal miners who are out of work, to support themselves and families by raising most of their food on their land. This 'back to the soil' idea would fit in very well here."

"How and who will get to live on these lots?" he was asked.

"In order to live on these lots," Mr. Richards answered, "the people must make applications to the government, and then different case workers, as they are called, will interview these people and ask all about their families and conditions, and of course the more desirable tenants will be allowed to go on the while the undesirable ones will not.

"Just what was my work this summer? Well, I had charge of the personnel work, telling what person to go on what job, and also the electrical work around the camp."

Mr. Richards reported that he had learned many new things and although he had worked hard, he had had a very worthwhile and interesting experience in this summer camp.

OFFICERS FOR YEAR ELECTED BY GIRLS OF KANYON HALL

The girls of Canyon Hall met with Miss Carter last week to elect the dormitory officers for the coming year. As there are no senior girls in the dormitory house, the president had to be chosen from the Junior girls. Lera Rice was elected for this office. Dorothy Choate and Marguerite Heacock, freshmen were elected as fire marshals, and Mary Collier as social chairman.

Y. W. SPONSORS NUMEROUS ACTIVITIES DURING FIRST WEEK OF SCHOOL YEAR

A short play, "Joys and Dangers from Away from Home," was presented at the Y. W. meeting in the chapel on September 26. Louise Frank, Mary Collier, and Marguerite Nordyke composed the cast, with the setting in the living room of a "home sweet home."

Other features of the program were two readings by Helen Lou Povenmire, a duet by Jean Gardner and Mary Collier, and a short talk by Elizabeth Aebischer.

Lera Rice announced for the nominating committee that they had chosen Marjorie Seely as a nominee for treasurer. The election of a new treasurer to fill the vacancy left by Dorothy Balcom will be held at the meeting next week.

The big and little sister hike, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., held on the evening of September 20, was attended by approximately forty Pacific college girls, and Miss Carter, Miss Kendall, and Miss Gould of the faculty.

After an evening of fun around a big bonfire, on the banks of the Willamette, roasting wieners, buns, and eating oranges, the girls all joined in singing songs, after which Miss Carter read several stories.

The first discussion group of the year sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. was held at Canyon Hall Wednesday, September 19.

Mary Brooks, as chairman, introduced the officers of the various school organizations who explained their duties and purposes of their organization. The Y. W. C. A., Treflan, W. A. A., Glee Club, Crescent, International Relations Club, and Student Body were represented.

Although the meeting was well attended; it is hoped that the next will be even larger, for they are open to every girl. Such a meeting is held every other Wednesday after school, alternating with Treflan.

ketball. Again while teaching at Wapinitia his teams won the county championships in both football and basketball. The following year at Mosier his record for turning out champion teams was not broken, for although his football team did not enter the county contest his basketball team did, and came out victorious.

Although Mr. Chapman is partial to basketball and football, he has had considerable experience in both baseball and track as an actual participant and coach.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT FIRST MEETING OF TREFLAN SOCIETY

The first meeting of the Treflan literary society, which was held Wednesday, Sept. 26, in the chapel of Wood-Mar Hall was given over to the election of new officers. The offices as filled were:

President, Helen Lou Povenmire; vice president, Lera Rice; secretary, Mary Brooks; treasurer, Mary Collier; critic, Dora Bales; reporter, Jean Gardner; social chairman, Violet Bralthwaite; marshal, Ruth Wilde; faculty advisor, Miss Emma Kendall.

Margaret Coulsen, a junior at Pacific College, is convalescing, after a successful appendicitis operation, at the Clark County General Hospital in Vancouver, Washington. Margaret is a June, '34 graduate of the Portland Bible Institute, and a resident of Scotts Mills, Oregon. Pacific is glad to know that she will be back in the halls very soon.

"FOOTBALL PROSPECTS ARE GOOD FOR COMING SEASON," SAYS COFFIN

"If the team keeps on improving as much as it has in the past two weeks, we ought to take most of our games," confidently stated Eugene Coffin, captain and first string quarterback of this year's football squad, in a recent interview on the team and players.

When asked his opinion of the new coach, Hal Chapman, he had nothing but words of the highest praise and admiration for the way the coach has taken hold and has been working with the men. "The fellows," the captain says, "are showing a spirit of team work and hard work that promise to develop the best team we have had in years.

"The backfield," he continues, "will be every bit as good as last year. Dorsey Riggs, a newcomer this season, will be groomed for the fullback position. Louis Sandoz and Elwood Grimes at the halfback posts have been looking very good. Sandoz, a regular from last year, is a real triple threat man on anybody's football team. Dutchy Everest, local boy from Newberg High, will doubtless be alternate quarterback. Ray Miller has been showing a great deal of promise at half and may give any of the regulars a real battle for first string honors. Lloyd Schaad, also of Newberg High, has been working out at the fullback post the last week. With a little more experience at this position he should prove to be a real asset. He has a lot of speed and is a hard man to hurt. Albert Hansberry, another half, will likely develop into a good man with more experience.

"Now the line looks equally as good as the backfield," enthusiastically stated Mr. Coffin. "The ends are well taken care of by John Diamond and Ned Green, regulars from last year's squad. Louis Coffin and Harold Roberts, as alternates, make the wing positions very strong. Earl Kivett, plunging fullback of last year's Newberg High squad, has been placed at tackle with Ben Leuthe as his running mate. Ronald Sherck, two year letterman, will doubtless see a lot of action at this post. Ernest Kaster is another alternate at this position who is rapidly learning the game. Alfred Bates and Alfred Boyer are due for first call at the guard position. Both men have had a great deal of experience and are fast, hard hitting linemen. Cal Hicks, Arney Houser and Albert Craig are waging a battle for alternate positions with Bates and Boyer. All three men will probably see a lot of service before the season closes.

"The center position has proved to be this year's C. W. (coach's worry). Minus the services of last year's regular center, Chuck Henrickson, Coach Chapman has been looking for a big man with some experience; and Bob Macy, of Idaho, may be the man to fill the bill. Laurence McCracken and Lewis Hoskins will be understudies to Macy. "Well, that's about the extent of our players. We have a wonderful line-up with plenty of reserves and with the wholehearted backing of the student body, I am confident we will have a most successful season."

Eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow ye diet.—Wilmer Gilmore Beymer.

If spirit and enthusiasm mean great football teams, Pacific College is due for a successful season, indeed. Unfortunately, this is only one of the factors involved in good play. I, as a coach at Pacific College, wish to extend my gratitude to the student body, the Lettermen's Club, the Athletic Association, the faculty and the football fans of Newberg, for their extreme interest in the work that I shall have charge of this year.

As to how successful our teams will be this year I would rather not say at the present time. Our team is going to be too light to expect a powerful line plunging attack. Deception, fast running and passing will have to take its place. For deception and speed, experience is a great advantage and many of our boys have never played college football before. Many have not played high school ball, and many are putting on a football suit for the first time this fall.

My advice to those looking forward to the coming football year, is not to expect a wonderful team the first few games. We do promise, however, to be a hard trying and a growing team as the season progresses.

Sincerely,
Hal Chapman

ANNUAL STAG MIX STAGED IN GYM THURSDAY NIGHT

Informality reigned supreme as the men of Pacific College gathered in the gymnasium for the annual stag mix Thursday night. Various forms of hot hand were enjoyed by all, and time out from the evening's strenuous activity was called later to enjoy hot dogs, buns and chocolate. The entertainment was climaxed with a lively game of volley ball.

The speaker was waxing eloquent, and after his peroration on women's rights he said, "When they take our girls, as they threaten, away from the coeducational colleges, what will follow? What will follow, I repeat?"

A loud masculine voice in the audience replied, "I will!"

"What is a 'faculty'?"
"A faculty is a body of men surrounded by red tape."

A young theologian named Fiddle Refused to accept his degree. "For," said he, "'tis enough to be Fiddle Without being Fiddle, D. D."

APPEAL FOR SUPPORT OF ARMAMENT INVESTIGATION MADE BY J. J. HANDSAKER

The body of the speech concerned the arms investigation which is being carried out at the present time, the startling facts that have been revealed in our country and others in regard to the armament manufacturers, and the part that people can play in encouraging and keeping up the investigation, through which the American people may know in what way they have been led, through propaganda, to play the part of the "sucker."

"One girl started the investigation of the armament ring. Her name was Dorothy Detser. She went to a large number of senators and asked them individually if they would not support such an investigation. Many gave the excuse that if they supported such a thing, they would commit political suicide. However, in Senator Nye, she found a man who would get behind such an action, and he is now leading the investigation which is revealing facts which have startled many people," related Mr. Handsaker.

"Everything possible is being done to stop this investigation. Men are subtle in bringing up protest against such action. Senator Nye is appealing to all to support him in the arms investigation, and the student body of Pacific may have its part in informing the community of this investigation and the merits of such a thing in building up a public sentiment against war."

Mr. Handsaker brought two very interesting pamphlets which he sold to the students and faculty, the majority of which were sold immediately and the money taken in was enough to buy a very interesting and instructive book by Beverly Nichols called "Cry Havoc". The pamphlets were, "An Apology to the Unknown Soldier" by Harry Emerson Fosdick, one of the greatest peace sermons ever written; and "A Primer on Europe's Armament Makers Who Prolong War and Disturb Peace". This article appeared in the Fortune Magazine, and deals especially with revealing the facts of the traitorous dealings of armament manufacturers, and many other disgusting truths concerning the World War.

Mr. Handsaker mentioned other books that would be well to read. One book, "Iron, Blood, and Profits," brought out the fact that all Americans who died in the World War died needlessly. The other book was "Death and Profits" by Segmore Waldman, and was a report of the author's hearing at the World Policies Commission.

There is one other interesting point of current news that the speaker brought out, and that was concerning the Universal Draft Plan, which is supported by the American Legion, supposedly as a peace movement. The plan is three fold, (1) to take all profit out of war; (2) to conscript wealth; and (3) to equalize the burden of war. The report shows that the plan, if adopted, does not take the profits out of war, but guarantees and stabilizes them. It is directly opposed to the conscription of wealth, and the matter of equalizing the burdens of war does not comfort anyone who goes through such a thing. The tragedy of this plan is that it is supposed to be a measure for peace, and is truly exactly the opposite.

Mr. Handsaker gave a great deal of food for thought to those who heard him, and also a plan of action by which a student body such as Pacific may forge ahead and wage an effective campaign for peace, and against the greatest enemy of mankind—War.

ALUMNI NOTES

At the annual Alumni Association banquet last spring, it was decided that an effort should be made to get more alumni members on The Crescent subscription list. Here is your first copy for this year. If you will send the regular subscription price to Della L. Hanville, Newberg, Oregon, you will receive the rest of The Crescents throughout the school year; and this column of alumni news will continue.

Why should you take The Crescent? Your subscription will do these things—think them over:

1. It will keep you in close touch with the present happenings at your Alma Mater.

2. It will bring back pleasant memories of the time when you were part of similar activities.

3. It will bring you news of your classmates.

4. It will keep the present students in touch with you.

5. It will help The Crescent even more than the mere fifty cents worth.

We could name more, but you don't need them. If you aren't convinced now, we'll try again some day.

Because there was one honest woman at the banquet, this news column will begin with the name of Jessie Britt, '99. Most of us like to see our names in print—but we're afraid to admit it.

Dorothea Nordyke, '32, was married to Roger Hart on June twenty-fourth. The Harts are living in Newberg where Roger is associated with his father in the Hart Garage.

The class of '33 never allows itself to be outdone by the class ahead. Dorothea McMichael and Dennis McGuire, both of '33, were married September second. They are now in Central Point where Dennis is teaching again this winter.

Larry Alvin Allen was born September third. His parents are the Alvin Allens. Marie Hester Allen is a member of the class of '28. Larry is the second grandson of the president of the Board of Managers, Thomas Hester.

Southern Oregon has been playing merry-go-round with P. C.'s graduates and Friends. Marion Winslow, '27, who has been teaching at Glendale, is now superintendent of schools in Grants Pass. Ben Huntington, '30, who has been principal of the Camas Valley High School, is now principal at Glendale, while Alvin Allen, who was principal at Arago, has Ben's old place in Camas Valley. You should "give it a whirl," too, Dennis—you're down there.

Now, we could write more, but the editors don't want us to fill up the entire page, so be sure and send your subscription money right away to get the next installment when it comes out.

FLAGPOLE ERECTED IN 1920 TOPPLES TO GROUND; PLANS MADE FOR REPLACEMENT

Possibly affected by the unusual amount of excitement caused by the opening of Pacific College with the largest registration in its history, the campus flagpole toppled to the ground Tuesday morning, Sept. 18. Nothing was damaged except the pole.

This same flagpole, which has held Old Glory to the breeze for P. C. for the last fifteen years, was erected by the class of 1923 when they were freshmen. The pole was donated to the class by H. L. Hoskins and came from his grove one-half mile north of the college. The class erected it in a concrete base. In May, 1930, it was taken down, painted, and reset. Since then it has stood a gleaming white sentinel on duty until its downfall two weeks ago.

As soon as arrangements can be made a new pole will be put up. Janitor Schmoe has a tree in mind which will probably be used for the new flagpole.

GET ACQUAINTED PARTIES HELD IN DORM AND GYM

Social life opened at P. C. for the coming year with a "get-acquainted" party held in the girls' dormitory Monday evening, Sept. 17.

A large group of new and old students enjoyed games tending to help them become better acquainted with each other. Helen Lou Povenmire was in charge of the evening's activities.

A similar party was held in the gymnasium on Tuesday evening with old clothes and tennis shoes in evidence. More lively games were played by the students attending this affair.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS HONORED AT RECEPTION

The student body and faculty of Pacific college were entertained at the Friends church on Friday evening, September 28, at the annual reception which the church gives honoring new students and faculty members. During the evening various contests were held and a program of varied musical numbers was given. Rev. Carl Miller, in behalf of the Friends church, expressed the welcome to Pacific students and faculty.

Ruth W.: "Hurray! I just received five dollars for my latest poem."

Mary C.: "Who from?"

Ruth W.: "The express company; they lost it."

Dora B.: "I'd like to donate my last picture to a charitable purpose."

Critic: "Why not give it to an institution for the blind?"

DORMITORY SQUEAK

The Mouse Hole

Dear Mickie Mouse:

Here I am writing to you again after a whole summer of the most gorgeous vacation you can imagine. And let me tell you the news; the dormitory is full this year—full of noisy, giggling girls. Why, I don't dare even poke my nose out of the Mouse Hole without one of them squealing. To make matters worse, some of them came two weeks early, bag and baggage; with nothing interesting in them, cause I looked. Of course they didn't stay long, but them painters came to fix the floors, and I never could stand the smell of paint! On top of all that, to add to my discomfort, the two Marys are rooming together! Woe is me, me a quiet, loving soul.

Violet, Ruthie, Rachelle, and Lera are back again. They are rather used to me, but these new girls—they'll get acquainted—Dorothy Choate, Marguerite Heacock, Ailene Reed, and Emma Hogue constitute the Freshman delegation who are soon to get their just deserts. Isabella Wilson and Charlotte Coleman, staid juniors, have joined the inmates. Miss Kendall, the English instructor, has a room on the first floor. I'm now learning bits of English on the side.

I just heard from my uncle, the Hoover Rat, that the boys are having a gay old time. He says that Allen Hadley has some awfully good cookies. He also relates that Gene makes a very good governor, knows just when to go out and when to study. There are lots of new students over there. The Hendrickson boys, Ernest Pearson, Ernest Kaster, Ben Luethe, all upper classmen, will soon initiate the Freshman boys, Louis Coffin and Albert Craig, into the dormite circle.

Say, I was down in the kitchen the other night, and what meals they are serving! There was some of the best pie left over; so I had apple pie and cheese. Oh, that pie reminds me that I haven't told you about the new cook, Mrs. Barrett. She surely can cook. Come up some time; we'll visit the pantry.

It looks as if I were going to have a busy time this winter with all this bunch around. It's rather merry with so many interesting things going on, but sad to relate, all the dresser drawers are taken, so I have to move my winter home earlier than usual.

Oh, my whiskers! Here comes the thundering herd, classes must be out. So long!

Your devoted cousin,
The Dormitory Mouse.
